(57) Abstract :

A pharmaceutical preparation for the treatment of cardiac and cardiovascular disorders, such as hypertension, angina pectoris, cardiac insufficiency, cardiac arrest, heart attack and illness associated therewith, contains the active substance hydrochlorothiazide, or a pharmaceutically acceptable salt thereof, as well as pharmaceutically usual additives. Pursuant to present invention, it has been found that modified release composition containing the low soluble and highly permeable drug, hydrochlorothiazide, may be prepared which provided therapeutically effective plasma concentration of hydrochlorothiazide for a period of about 20 to about 24 hours covering the most risk period of cardiac arrest that is early morning hours and last phase of sleep. The modified release composition of current invention provides modified release of hydrochlorothiazide formulation of lower doses, which will reduce side effects of higher doses along with reducing dosing frequency for better patient compliance.
